TERESA GALLO NAMED DIRECTOR OF MARKETING AND BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT AT GALLO HERBERT LEBOLO

DEERFIELD BEACH, Fla. (December 9, 2010) – Deerfield Beach-based architectural firm of Gallo Herbert Lebolo (GHL) has announced the promotion of Teresa Gallo to director of marketing and business development.

Gallo held the position of executive assistant at GHL during the past two years.

Prior to her becoming a full-time employee at GHL, Gallo gained key working experience at the firm while attending classes at the Art Institute of Miami & Ft. Lauderdale.

ABOUT GALLO HERBERT LEBOLO

Gallo Herbert Lebolo, formerly known as Gallo Architects & Development Consultants, Inc. (GADC) was founded in 1988 by William J. Gallo, AIA. In its 22 years of existence, the firm has gone through an architectural evolution, from post modernism, through constructivism to the current development of green building design and commissioning.

In 1999, GADC expanded and Brian P. Herbert, AIA, became a principal and in 2005 he became president. Emilio Lebolo III was later added as a principal and vice president in 2007.

The firm believes in producing vibrant, inspiring designs that transform into powerful and sustainable buildings. Gallo Herbert Lebolo strives to create functional spaces that fulfill challenging requirements and attract individuals to meet, relate and enjoy the ambiance. The firm's philosophy is to create social art.

To better represent the three owners, GADC began doing business as Gallo Herbert Lebolo in June of 2009.

Gallo, Herbert Lebolo is licensed to provide design services in Florida, Alabama, South Carolina, Georgia, Washington, D.C., Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Delaware, New York, and New Jersey. Additionally, the firm is able to operate throughout the United States by means of NCARB reciprocity, and in the Caribbean and Central America.
